Fund Manager Commentary

Gilt yields rose in April, on optimism about geo-political risks. European Union (EU) leaders agreed to delay the UK's departure from the EU, granting more time for the UK to arrive at a consensus on the terms of its withdrawal. The initiation of cross-party Brexit negotiations in the UK thereafter was taken positively, with market participants also anticipating some progress in the US-China trade discussions. Consequently, safe haven demand for bonds softened, with credit spreads continuing to tighten. The 10-year gilt yield rose from 1.0% to a high of 1.24%, before ending the period at 1.19%. Our 1.26% total return outperformed its peer group average (0.66%) as well as its FT All Stock benchmark (-1.52%). Credit selection, notably in Financials and niche exposures, was the principal driver of returns with declining risk premiums more than offsetting the adverse impact of rising yields. We added to its holdings in Scottish Widows 7% 2043 and RSA Insurance Group plc 5.125% 2045 (2025 call). We also sold out of United Mexican States 5.625% 2114, reinvesting the proceeds in Prudential 6.25% 2068 (2048 call). We continue to seek opportunities to invest in quality corporate debt at attractive yields.

*Past 12 months' distributions as a % of midshare price, excluding preliminary charge.
 The Distribution Yield* reflects the amounts that may be expected to be distributed over the next 12 months as a percentage of the mid-market unit price of the fund. The Underlying Yield reflects the annualised income net of expenses of the fund (calculated in accordance with relevant accounting standards) as a percentage of the midmarket unit price of the fund. Both Yields are based on a snapshot of the portfolio on that day. The yields do not include any preliminary charge and investors may be subject to tax on distributions. The Distribution Yield is higher than the Underlying Yield because the fund's expenses are charged to capital. This has the effect of increasing the distributions for the year and constraining the fund's capital performance to an equivalent extent.

Yield figures are as at 30/04/2019. AMC† is charged to capital for both share classes of this fund which could constrain the potential growth of your investment. Past performance should not be seen as a guide to future performance. The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency fluctuations, you may not get back the amount originally invested. This factsheet should not be interpreted as financial advice. If you are unsure which investment is most suited for you, the advice of a qualified financial adviser should be sought.
