Fund Manager Commentary

European equities posted a sixth consecutive month of gains in July, finishing the period at new all-time highs, +12.7% higher on the year in GBP terms. European markets continued to benefit from reopening and associated economic growth. European government yields were lower on the month as central bankers continued to signal loose policy, whilst the euro was weaker against the pound but slightly stronger against USD. Most European countries delivered positive returns with Norway, Belgium, Spain and Portugal the most notable exceptions, contrasting with strong performance from Ireland, Finland, Sweden and the Netherlands. The Fund was -0.9% relative to benchmark, impacted by relative weakness for value. Underperformance was most evident in the Netherlands, Sweden and Switzerland, partially offset by outperformance in Finland and Germany. All industry sectors were positive except Energy, which fell -5.3% and benefitted the Fund along with outperformance from the Consumer Discretionary allocation. Weakness within Financials, Health Care and Technology detracted. Nokia, up +13.5%, delivered the most material gains to the Fund's relative performance, with St. Gobain and Covivio also noteworthy risers. Carrefour, Hamburger Haafen and Randstad all suffered mid-single digit weakness, and ASML underweight was most detrimental, representing over 3% of the index and rising +9.6%.
