Fund Manager Commentary

European equities had a strong March in spite of the rise in Covid cases across the continent, and widespread criticism of the EU vaccine rollout programme. The euro weakened against both the pound and the dollar, as France and Italy entered their third lockdowns and Germany imposed new protective measures. Bond yields were flat on the month after February's sharp rise, whilst the European Central Bank reiterated its accommodative policy stance. All European countries delivered positive benchmark returns in March in GBP terms with the exception of Turkey, Poland and Hungary, whilst Ireland, Greece and Norway were top performers. The Fund was +0.8% relative to benchmark over the month, benefitting from an overweight allocation to the Netherlands and outperformance from the less materially-weighted Denmark, whilst Germany was a detractor. All benchmark sectors were positive through the month, with Telecommunications, Consumer Staples and Consumer Discretionary up by over +6%, whilst Energy lagged on lower oil prices and defensive Health Care underperformed recovery sectors. Additional drivers of relative performance included positive stock selection within Financials and Health Care. At a stock level, Bank of Ireland, PostNL and Rockwool all showed double-digit gains, whilst Hamburger Hafen, Imerys and Vivendi suffered modest declines.
